💡 PROJECTS

E-commerce Website

I'm doing an e-commerce website using PHP as it's backend along with HTML and CSS with a bit of bootstrap in the frontend. The database used over here is MySQL.

Institute Website

This is a project done using WordPress. Here there are various IT courses provided by the institute which is displayed in the form of cards using bootstrap on which the students can select the course and view it's details.

🏆 ACHIEVEMENTS & AWARDS

As I've been a private tutor, so once a student told me that "You should write a book of your own" (on programming languages, where I'd be explaining the concepts of coding in a very simple way incorporating real life examples wherever necessary).
